Work is progressing very favorably on the new court house. Several steam fitters came up from Ogden Tuesday to do plumbing in the building. Carpenters have the roof nearly completed, and they will soon commence on the inside work.

An excursion will be run from Park City and intermediate points to Saltair on July 12th, under the auspices of Summit Stake. A rate of $1.75 from Park City and $1.50 from Coalville will be secured and an effort is being made to have the tickets good returning the following day.

The Richfield News made its first appearance last Friday with Dr. Howard at the helm. There was too much salt in Richfield for the doctor, so he moved his camp to Richfield, and from now on we can enjoy the bright rays of the Sun from that thriving town. Success, Bro. Howard.

Levi Pearson of Oakley surprised his many friends last week by quietly going to Salt Lake and marrying Miss Ada Brown of Hoveville. The ceremony was performed in the Temple last Wednesday. There are both well known in the county and their many friends extend best wishes.

One of the largest real estate transfers that has been made in Coalville for a long time was consummated this week. George Redden sold his large ranch at Upton to Granville Denning, and the former has now purchased the Wilkins & Denning property on the east side of main street. He has also bought J. H. Ball's saloon property, and will transform the building into an up-to-date restaurant and ice cream parlor. This is one of the best pieces of real estate in Coalville.

A prisoner named Hunter, who is confined in the county jail awaiting trial for stealing hides from Park City, made an attempt to get away Tuesday night, and had it not been for the springing qualities of County Clerk Nealey, the prisoner would perhaps have been in some other county by this time. When T. L. Beech took supper up to the prisoners they were let out to get water and a little exercise, and Hunter saw a chance to get away and lit out down through the fields. Clerk Nealey seen him going and taking a gun started after him. The race was a lively one and the prisoner did not halt until two shots were fired by the clerk, neither of which, however, hit anything but the ground. He was caught down on the railroad track and brought back. The fellow claims to be a wife and two children in Salt Lake with nothing to eat.

The young man who suffers from bashfulness, self-distrust or false shame, has good company. Many great men have suffered in the same way, and at some time shaken off the shackles that fettered them and so may be. Let him remember that the company he is in at any time is not a conversation of men respecting and forming judgment upon him, or deciding him to be a clown or dunce, on account of some oddness or awkwardness or passing slip in himself or his accessories. Let him consider that the mass of men are too much engrossed in themselves to be watching or caring about others; and, with this thought uppermost, let him force himself into society and the bustle of the world, and school himself to take part in their affairs. Let him especially avoid the company of melancholy, self-distrustful, dependent people, mingling with the sunny, the buoyant and the hopeful; and gradually his shyness with its fears, will leave him, and his very sensitiveness may prove an element of strength.

That Throbbing Headache

Triumphs of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are split; pipes take place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and means that the Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal quickly. It allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your house and it will save time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering which such injuries entail. For sale by John Boyden & Son.

Coalville Will Celebrate.

Preparations Being Made for a Big Time on the Fourth.

Present to the call of Mayor Ord, number of citizens met in the city hall last Friday night to decide whether or not to celebrate the Fourth in Coalville. It was the unanimous decision of those present that we have a good reason for celebration. Hon. Alma Eldridge was chosen chairman of the meeting and Frank Rippon secretary. After an informal discussion of the best way to conduct the celebration, etc., it was thought best to appoint a committee on arrangements and let the members select the other necessary committees. Accordingly, Alma Eldridge, C. R. Jones, J. L. Boyden, Mrs. R. F. North, Frank Evans, Mrs. Alma Eldridge, and W. L. Hansen were named as the committee on arrangements. The committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon and drew up an outline of the work to be done, and they will meet again today and appoint the various committees to have charge of the celebration.

An effort is being made to secure Dr. J. E. Tammage on some other prominent doctor to deliver the oration, and the Ogden band will likely be engaged again for the occasion. The program and full particulars will appear in next week's issue.

The committee on arrangements here by extend a cordial invitation to the people of all the surrounding towns; in fact, all in the county, to come to Coalville on that day and help make the celebration a grand success. We have plenty of room here; there will be sports to satisfy everybody, horse ball, dancing, etc., so bring your children and have a good time.

Relieved to Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation, in case of accident resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, etc., etc. Lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Ointment. It's the best on earth. 25c, at John Boyden & Son's Drug Store.

Reception to Mrs. J. A. Smith.

One of the most notable events in the history of Coalville was given at the Opera House Tuesday night. The members of the stake choir, or all who had taken part in that organization since it was first started, and their friends, were invited to be at the Opera House and give Mrs. J. A. Smith a rousing good reception. About 150 people were present and everybody went with the intention of having a good time. Dancing was indulged in until 11 o'clock when the following short program was carried out: Chorus, choir; piano solo, Miss Virginia Smith; speech, Frank Evans; vocal solo, Mrs. J. A. Smith; speech, George Beard; speech, F. H. Wright; chant, "The Old Pine Never Touched the Ground." Winnie Smith and Edna Beard. On behalf of the choir, George Beard presented Mrs. Smith with a beautiful silver tea set, as a token of the friendship and love that the members of the choir have for her. The lady responded and showed her appreciation of the sentiments expressed.

Refreshments were served to all after which dancing was indulged in for a few hours. The building was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. Mrs. Smith has been a member of the choir ever since she was old enough to sing, and has been one of the most active workers in that organization. She has always been on hand to sing at all kinds of gatherings, and her sweet voice has been a delight to the people. Everybody are loathe to see her leave here but she is lately going to Park City where she can come down occasionally and sing for us.

Mrs. Smith and family will leave today for Park City to make their future home, and they have the best wishes of all for happiness and prosperity. Coalville loses a good family, and Park City is to be congratulated on the gain.

Thrown from a Wagon.

Mr. George K. Babcock was thrown from his wagon and severely bruised. He applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely and says it is the best treatment he ever used. Mr. Babcock is a well known citizen of North Plain, Conn. There is nothing equal to Pain Balm for sprains and bruises. It will effect a cure in one third the time required by any other treatment. For sale by John Boyden & Son.

A Daughter's Duty.

There is a beautiful sermon in the following talk of a father to his careless daughter:

I want to speak to you of your mother. It may be that you have noticed a certain look upon her face lately. Of course it has not been brought there by any action of yours still it is your duty to chase it away. I want you to get up in the morning and get the breakfast and when your mother comes and begins to express her surprise go right up and kiss her. You can't imagine how it will brighten her dear face. Besides you owe her a kiss or two.

Away back when she was little she kissed you when you were little and she blessed you when you were tempted by your fever tainted breath and swollen face. You were not as attractive then as you are now. And through those years of childish sunshine and shadow she was always ready to cure by that magic of a mother's kiss the little dirty chubby hands whenever they were injured in those first skirmishes with the world. And then the midnight kiss with which she soothed so many bad dreams as she leaned over your restless pillow have been on interest these long, long years.

Of course she is not so pretty and kissable as you are but if you had done your share of the work during the last ten years the contrast would not have been so marked. Her face has more wrinkles than yours, far more, and yet if you were sick that face would appear more beautiful than an angel's as it hovered over you watching every opportunity to minister to your comfort and every wrinkle would seem to be bright wavelets of sunshine chasing each other over the dear face.

She will leave you one of these days. Those burdens if not lifted from her shoulders will break her down. Those rough hard hands that have done so many necessary things for you will be crossed upon her lifeless breast. Those neglected lips that gave you your first baby kiss will be forever closed and those tired eyes will have opened into eternity and then you will appreciate your mother but it will be too late.

All diseases start in the bowels. Keep them open or you will be sick. CASCARETS act like nature. Keep liver and bowels active without a sickening griping feeling. Six millions of people take and recommend CASCARETS; try the box. All druggists.

We can do your job work.

SIX HUNDRED PERISH.

New York, June 15.—One of the most appalling disasters in the history of New York, tragic in its immensity, dramatic in its episodes, and deeply pathetic in the tender age of most of its victims, took place today in the East River, at the entrance to Long Island sound, within a short distance of the New York shore, and within sight of thousands of persons, the majority of whom were horrified to witness the extent of the catastrophe.

By driving to the water's edge of the Blooming, a three decker excursion steamer, the largest in these waters, more than 600 persons, the majority of whom were women and children, were hurriedly death or drowned by jumping overboard or by being thrown into the whirlpools by the lurching of the vessel and the frantic rush of the panic-stricken passengers.

WANTED—SEVERAL PERSONS OF character and good reputation in each state (one in this county required) to represent and advertise our established weekly business house of solid financial standing. Salary $25 weekly with reasonable additional, all payable in cash direct each Wednesday from head office. Horse and carriage furnished when necessary. References. Indiana self-addressed envelope. Colonial Co., 208 Dearborn street, Chicago.

IT IS UP TO THE DOCTOR.

A lady wrote us from Winchester, Va., that she had been under a doctor's care for four years for dyspepsia, the pain appeared to be centered under the left shoulder blade, was so severe at times that she could neither eat nor sleep. She had lost both in her home doctor's and sent us to send her a sample of Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills, which had been recommended to her. We sent her two pills, in a few days she sent for a box. Now she writes that the pain under her shoulder has left her entirely. She enjoys her meals and never sleeps less than 8 hours every night and takes all come about in 2 weeks, and was her effects, for 2 boxes of pills. Says the doctor charged her $50.00, and that she told him he had better take the $50.00 and invent hell in Dr. J. C. Williams' Improved Liver Pills and build up his practice by drugging for 25 cts. per box. Any one having dyspepsia, bilious epistaxis or sick head-aches can get a speedy cure by the use of these pills.
